

Henry Lee
Executive Facilitator & Executive Coach
Glides Consulting Partners
hlee@glidespartners.com

After 25 years working with several multinationals in the US and Asia, Henry decided to transform his career as co-founder of Glides Consulting Partner. His previous experiences in Sales Management combined with his business experience working with government, multinational, sales partners and SME clients across Asia provided him with the right stimulant to fuel his passion for coaching and facilitating team transformation.

In 2012, Henry embarked on his latest adventure working with clients to exceed business results by focusing on taking their performance to the next level individually and as an organization. He derives great satisfaction partnering with business leaders to transform themselves and their teams.

Henry's 17 year career in Microsoft included a variety of roles ranging from Enterprise Sales, Partner Group Sales Director, Senior Director for Corporate Accounts Sales in Singapore, Business Management and Operations for Sales Business Unit for Greater China Region based in Beijing, China, Senior Director for Asia Timezone Corporate Accounts Sales (APAC, GCR, India, Japan) and Senior Director for Customer Services and Consumer Technical Support for APAC, GCR, India). During his last 10 years in Microsoft, Henry's passion for people development drove him towards being certified as an Executive Coach by Results Coaching Institute.

In the past few years, Henry has been coaching senior/ mid-level executives and facilitating sales, management and leadership workshops across Asia Pacific. He focuses his energy and time working with clients to deliver breakthrough results through greater accountability and accelerating the transformation of their culture to a Culture of Accountability in order to deliver great results in the next 3 to 5 year.